

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Godfrey Baldacchino is Professor of Sociology at the University of Malta; Island Studies Teaching Fellow at the University of Prince Edward Island, Canada; and Executive Editor of the Island Studies Journal. <godfrey.baldacchino@um.edu.mt>

Jon Fitzgerald is Adjunct Associate Professor in the contemporary music program at Southern Cross University (Lismore, Australia). His research focuses on the musical analysis of popular music, and he is also an experienced performer, composer and recording artist. <jon.fitzgerald@scu.edu.au>

Robert W. Gear is a scholar of maritime history from Northern Scotland involved in interdisciplinary research on fisheries development. After extensive travelling, he is now living in Thailand and lecturing in a university there. He has presented at various international conferences and his first monograph will be released in 2015. <robert.gear@graduate.org>

Ilan Kelman is a Reader in Risk, Resilience and Global Health at University College London (UCL), England and a Senior Research Fellow at the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs (NUPI), Oslo. His overall research interest is linking disasters and health, including the integration of climate change into disaster research and health research. <ilan_kelman@hotmail.com>

Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt was trained in Human Geography and is currently a Senior Fellow at the Resource, Environment & Development Program in Crawford School of Public Policy in the College of Asia and the Pacific, The Australian National University. She has written widely on waters and rivers, and uses feminist and political economic methods in her research. <kuntala.lahiri-dutt@anu.edu.au>

Lachlan MacKinnon is a PhD candidate in the Department of History at Concordia University. His dissertation explores workers' experiences of deindustrialization in Sydney, Nova Scotia, and he has also published on topics relating to public memory, commemoration, and labour history in Atlantic Canada. <Lachlan.f.mackinnon@gmail.com>

Joseph W. Miller is currently in his second year of teaching in a Philadelphia middle school. His current research interests are gender dynamics in a school setting and the way in which data is (mis)used in educational settings. <perrymiller1347@gettysburg.edu>

Voon Chin Phua is Associate Professor of Sociology at Gettysburg College. His current research interests are niche tourism, and sexuality. <vphua@gettysburg.edu>

Gil Marvel P. Tabucanon has recently completed a PhD at the Macquarie University School of Law, on the topic 'Environmental Migration in the Pacific: Resettlement and Legal Frameworks for Protection.' He has published on the legal protections of environmentally displaced Pacific populations, both in Australia and in the United States. <gil.tabucanon@mq.edu.au>